Client: Mower, Carreon, & Desai, LLP
Website: <http://www.mocalaw.com>
Contact Information: 949-474-3004

"I just want you to know that you and your company have done a wonderful job on our website! It was a pleasure working with you; the quality of the site, and the positive comments we have received, is proof positive of your talented and rather creative approach to web-design. Plus, you came-in within budget! We couldn't have asked for any more."

Aashish Y. Desai – Managing Partner

Client: Stone Equipment Company, Inc.
Website: <http://www.stoneequipment.com>
Contact Information: 951-272-9200

"Corona Central provided our company with a solution on time and within our marketing budget. They worked with us to include the items we felt were most important without trying to sell us on items we didn't need. Working with your team was a pleasurable experience and your knowledge and support were always professional and valuable. You also did a wonderful job getting key placements in the major search engines, including Google and Yahoo. Thank you for a job well done!"

Roy Stone – CEO and President

Client: New Dimensions Escrow

Contact Information: 951-734-8252

"Corona Central created the website for New Dimensions Escrow. He did an excellent job of implementing my vision for the website with a creative flair and a technologically savvy instinct, which resulted in a professional and informative website on the cutting edge. Len maintained his commitment to the timelines that were established for production and delivered the finished product on budget. In addition, we have been able to rely on Len to make any necessary revision and/or updates on an ongoing basis to keep our website in an "up to the minute" state. I invite you to view our website to experience the professional level of product Len Morales provides through Corona Central"
